From The CEO's Desk...

Preamble: Good Shepherd Mission Hospital CEO

On behalf of our leadership and staff at Good Shepherd Hospital we want you to know that the mission to nurture health and protect priceless lives was at the core of our genesis in 1949; it is the reason we exist today. The human body is Priceless; it is exactly for this reason that we at Good Shepherd Hospital, Value Life. Patients from over the four (4) regions of the country and neighboring countries visit our Hospital every year and our Hospital has touched over millions of lives in the last 68 years. This incredible journey has taught us we should stop at nothing to do what we can to protect our patient's health and well being. We believe that we have a responsibility to help them fight the pain of disease and to give them the most appropriate treatment to put them on the road to recovery.

I know from my personal experience that our hospital is truly unique. Our caregivers are comprised of people you know—your friends, family and neighbors. Customer satisfaction is a top priority for us. Our entire healthcare team works diligently to provide excellence in service. We take great pride in not only meeting, but exceeding your expectations. This is also reflected from our newest member of staff. This legacy is also expected to be embodied by the newly appointed members of the hospital administration, mainly because the outgoing administration members were a living model of professionalism, respect, integrity, dedication and serving with excellence.

For over six decades we have been inspired by the dream of a healthy Kingdom of Swaziland. We have taken several transformative steps towards this goal. Our drive is powered by our deep respect for the power of good health and the miracle of the human body. Without good health, we know that life stands on a brittle foundation. We therefore seek to educate people on the importance of Preventive Health to protect them from a potentially uncontrollable disease burden.

Our commitment to health and our philosophy of valuing life—our defining legacy—is epitomized by our every day practices and performance. Our Hospital has led landmark changes in the Swaziland Healthcare ecosystem, through differentiated offerings, be it initiatives which benchmark our clinical excellence, our Preventive Health programme, our clinical protocols and pathways with best in class outcomes, or patient centric care giving.

At Good Shepherd Hospital, we have always believed the pursuit of excellence to be a relentless series of short races. To excel continuously means we have to win consistently. Today, Good Shepherd Hospital is one of the largest and most trusted integrated healthcare providers in Swaziland. At the core of this achievement is our patient-centric approach and our strong commitment to the highest standards of ethics. Every initiative of the Good Shepherd Hospital is measured by the value we are adding to patient experience.

Globally, the healthcare sector is getting disrupted through emerging digital trends and Swaziland is no exception to this. We are rolling out a well-thought-out strategy to leverage technology towards enhancing customer experience and loyalty, analytics, patient outreach and access. Technology also affords us a new way of thinking— it brings with it the power of collaboration and one important initiative in this regard, is the concept of Preventive Healthcare.

We have adopted the following values and believe them to be key to our success. You can expect that we will; be professional; be respectful; act with integrity; be dedicated and; Serve you with excellence.

We want to be your healthcare team of choice; experience the difference we can make.

Examining Good Shepherd Medical & Surgical Departments

Good Shepherd Mission Hospital, according to the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church, believes that to be healthy one has to be able to live in a harmonious relationship with the family, community, environment, God Almighty and with one self. This is believed to be a dynamic state of wellbeing of people which we want to share and build up through our caring. It is also in our mission that we improve the health of the people served by providing comprehensive health care services through committed staff within the context of the Catholic Church.

Medical departments at Good Shepherd Mission Hospital are strategized to attend our client's specific issues by gender and age. These departments are namely: ENT Department, Eye Clinic, Dentistry, Out Patient Department, Community, Administration, Wellness, Pharmacy, In-Patient Department. These departments, well known as wards, attend to both medical and surgical ailments to our clients. The wards are equipped with well trained medical staff and support staff. It is worth noting that we pride ourselves in being the lead referral hospital in the Lubombo region, expected to attend to all clients coming from clinics throughout the whole region.

The core values guiding the hospital departments include offering comprehensive health services through highly qualified staff and specialists. We use approved hospital standards, procedures and guidelines in our service provision. The hospital conducts regular performance audits based on quality assurance standards and there is provision of results-oriented health care, using evidence based methods.

The departments are guided by professional ethics and respect individual religious beliefs, allowing people to observe their religious rites. The teams in each department demonstrate mutual respect for each other and have a harmonious relationship within staff, patients and the public. There is also demonstration of support and collaborate with each other through multi-skilling, and an indication of good conflict resolution approach.

As our own CEO usually says "We take great pride in not only meeting, but exceeding your expectations", we believe that these departments are exceeding their best to meeting the vision of Good Shepherd Mission Hospital.

Good Shepherd Hospital TB clinic

From 2005, in Swaziland cases of Drug Resistant TB were on the raise. In 2009 the government built the National TB Hospital in order to manage all cases of Drug Resistant TB in the country.

Despite that, cases of Drug Resistant TB kept increasing in all the regions of Swaziland. For that purpose the National Tuberculous Control Program in agreement with the Ministry of Health decided to decentralize Drug Resistant TB services in all the four regions in order to reduce the burden on the National TB Hospital.

In Lubombo, there are two initiation sites or Drug Resistant TB clinics: Sithobela for Lubombo south and Good Shepherd Mission Hospital for Lubombo north. Drug Resistant TB services started at Good Shepherd Hospital in June 2014. From June 2014 up to date, 71 patients have been registered at GSH.

Good Shepherd TB clinic is responsible in the Lubombo North currently working hand in hand with eleven (11) clinics which are: Ebenezer clinic, Simunye company clinic, Vuvulane clinic, Mhlume company clinic, Tikhuba clinic, Mambane clinic, Sigcaweni clinic, Mpaka Refugee Camp clinic, Lomahasha clinic, Shewula Nazarene clinic and Mpolonjeni clinic.

Patients are usually seen at GSMH on monthly basis for follow up and refills.

In mid-2016 the team realised that the number of clients was in the rise. This became a challenge to provide quality assessments, reviews and proper refills for our clientele. At the same time, patients were experiencing financial problems which ultimately led them to miss their appointments, therefore interrupting their treatment.

In view of all these, the team decided to start the outreach program by

PHUMLILE SIKHONDZE'S SUCCESS STORY

Story by Andrew Jele

Phumlile Sikhondze is a 41 years old female from Sinceni who was admitted at Good Shepherd Mission Hospital (GSMH) female ward in February 2015.

PHUMLILE'S MEDICAL HISTORY

Phumlile had been taking antiretroviral medication since 2003 and in 2014 she started having swelling of the lower legs which started radiating to the abdomen. Her condition started getting worse with open Kaposi's sarcoma lesions which were offensive draining. Soon she was bed bound with severe pain.

PHUMLILE'S NEXTS MOVE

With all the frustration and fears, Phumlile decided to ask her relatives to bring her to GSMH. She was admitted in the female ward and was registered under the Palliative Care Program in a critical condition by the team.

Phumlile was reviewed by the Palliative Care team and put on oral antibiotics with an aggressive pain control medication of morphine. Unfortunately, her prognosis remained very poor with severe shortness of breath, disseminated Kaposi's sarcoma lesions, cardiomegaly and pleural effusion.

BENEFIT OF CHEMOTHERAPY WEIGHED

As part of symptom control, benefits of doing chemotherapy was weighed and the feeling from some doctors was that she was too sick and weak to tolerate the procedure.

Palliative care team with volunteers.

IN PALLIATIVE CARE WE NEVER SAY THERE IS NOTHING WE CAN DO FOR YOU. "Never say Never"

CHEMOTHERAPY TRIAL AGREED ON

Ultimately a doctor working in the ART Clinic recommended a trial session of chemotherapy to be given. The Palliative Care team then made arrangements to accommodate Phumlile while she was to undertake her chemotherapy treatment at GSMH.

RESPONSE TO CHEMOTHERAPY

The first cycle of chemo was well tolerated and Phumlile was booked for follow up sessions. By the time she was doing her fourth cycle there was tremendous improvement with less swelling and shortness of breath and some lesions were healing well.

By the time she was coming for her sixth cycle she was walking alone with no shortness of breath. Pain was greatly reduced and her morphine demand was not high as pain was graded as moderate.

HOW IS PHUMLILE NOW

Phumlile today is a completely different woman with no swelling and pains, she has gone back to her work where she does some marketing in Manzini to earn a living.

She comes to the palliative care office when she has come to refill her medication and she has one special message "thank you Good Shepherd for giving a second chance to live when everyone had given up on me"
